

2016 solar container field report

Overview

The report segments the solar container market by component, type, installation type, power capacity, and application. It addresses market drivers, restraints, opportunities, and challenges, presenting a comprehensive view across key regions. A value chain analysis of. Solar represented approximately 34% of all new U.S. electricity deployment in Q1-Q3 2016. 65% of the solar installs in the first 9 months of 2016 were utility-scale PV systems. Relative “weakness” in traditional U.S. distributed solar markets has been offset by the emergence of newer markets. The U.S. solar market had its biggest year in 2016, with more than 14 gigawatts (GW) of solar power installed, according to a new report released on Thursday. Other key findings from GTM Research and the Solar Energy Industries Association's (SEIA) U.S. Solar Market Insight 2016 Year-in-Review. Now in its ninth edition, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory (LBNL)'s Tracking the Sun report series is dedicated to summarizing trends in the installed price of grid-connected solar photovoltaic (PV) systems in the United States. The present report focuses on residential and non-residential. – In its biggest year to date, the United States solar market nearly doubled its annual record, topping out at 14,626 megawatts (MW) of solar photovoltaic (PV) installed in 2016. This represents a 95 percent increase over 2015's then record-breaking 7,493 MW. GTM Research and the Solar Energy. This research was supported by funding from the U.S. Department of Energy's SunShot Initiative. Solar deployment trends (and utility-scale's relative contribution) Future outlook Continued strong growth in c-Si capacity (77%) relative to thin-film capacity (23%). Largest c-Si manufacturers are. A study released this week by the U.S.-based communications firm Greentech Media and the Solar Energy Industries Association (SEIA), an American advocacy group, reports that the U.S. solar market had a record-breaking 2016, with solar becoming the year's top source of new electric generating.
