

Port of Spain solar container battery shell manufacturer

Overview

Spanish solar PV generator manufacturer Nomad Solar Energy, a subsidiary of solar power plant project developer Lone Lighthouse, has launched a line of containerized mobile solar PV generators. An entrepreneur planning a new solar module factory often focuses on the most visible elements, like state-of-the-art machinery, building layout, and initial investment figures. While these are undoubtedly critical, a project's profitability can hinge on an often-underestimated factor: logistics.
